

SECOND ARREST IN JOYNER CASE

Robert Jones Charged With Complicity in the Kidnapping.

WILL BE EXAMINED TO-DAY

Sheffield Acted Strangely, and Made Conflicting Statements.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CREWE, VA., May 1.—A second arrest was made at Church Road yesterday in connection with the kidnapping of little Luna Joyner, three years old, a person of Robert Jones (colored), an associate of Ben Sheffield (white).

Robert will be examined to-morrow, and hope is entertained that he will give important information.
Ben Sheffield was a neighbor of the late Mrs. Ida V. Joyner, and his actions after the disappearance of the child, Luna Joyner, caused him to be suspicious. His house was searched four days after the search began. He protested his innocence, saying he had six children of his own and he wondered why people thought he wanted this one.
His actions later on aroused the suspicion of Mrs. Lutton, while on her first visit to Mrs. Joyner. Since then a close watch has been kept on him and his colored associates by her. The fact of his having been an associate of Robert Jones and his family (colored) has caused much comment by all around Church Roads.

A DETECTIVE.
April 12th Mr. Spriggs, a detective, was summoned to Mrs. Lutton's assistance, going down as a dealer in the timber. He interviewed Mr. Sheffield and gained all the facts he needed.

It comes out that when the blood-hounds were on the trail a man's track was discovered near that of the child going in the same direction.
The owner of the hounds said the man that made those tracks carried off the child, and as they were arranged to put the hounds on the track Sheffield claimed them as his, and said it was no use to bother with them, as he had gone out through there hunting.

Now he denies saying this, and tells many rambling stories in regard to his actions that day. While under arrest he being questioned he committed himself in many ways.

THE DISAPPEARANCE.

Luna Joyner, the five-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ida V. Joyner, disappeared from her home, at Church Roads, on the night of the 17th of November, 1902. She was playing in the yard with her brothers and sisters, they having just returned from a peanut field near by belonging to a neighbor, by whom they had been given permission to gather the nuts. Left on the field after the digging. In the midst of their childish glee over the pile of nuts, they did not notice the absence of little Luna until they were ready to go in; then a word with "mamma" asking if Luna was with her, a bound to the field, thinking she had returned for more nuts, but no trace of the little girl. Then, when all was commotion, the mother hastily summoned the neighbors and the search began. The premises first, then adjoining fields, the woods everywhere. Neighbors by the dozen joined in the search; people came from far and near; at one time there were a hundred men systematically searching every nook and corner. Ponds were dragged, old wells cleaned out. But all over the State became interested. A reward of a hundred dollars was offered by the Governor. Detectives came and went. Still no news of the lost child.

MRS. LUTTON TAKES HOLD.
As time went on Mrs. Lutton decreased, and the child was given up. It was at this time that Mrs. Mary L. Lutton, of Crewe, formerly of New Castle, Pa., came to the front in the search. Having lost a little daughter by death about the time Luna's disappearance, she could not sympathize with the mother.
She visited the stricken home at Church Roads, became their friend, helped them in many ways, and comforted them as only a good woman knows how to do.
All the while she, with a shrewdness known only to a detective, was seeking a clue to the dark mystery. Her suspicion rested on neighbors. She learned that parties from a distance were stopping with them; she watched and worked, determined to bring back the child if it could be found. A delay in the search became necessary at this time, owing to the illness of Mrs. Lutton.

In the meantime the poor heartbroken mother was dying by degrees. She died October 23d, just eleven months after the child had disappeared. Her little ones were left with an aged and feeble grandmother and an uncle, Mr. Ira B. Chandler, whose devotion to his sister had been most beautiful. The best portion of his time had been spent going from one place to another, identifying children supposed to be Luna. There were six children left, four boys and two girls. The four smaller ones were later placed in the Baptist Orphanage at Salem by their good friend, Mrs. Mary L. Lutton. The older son, Willie, joined the United States army. George, the second son, has been living with relatives, until lately he has been with Mrs. Lutton.

A WOMAN'S WORK.
Public interest died out after the mother's death. But nothing daunted, Mrs. Lutton continued the search. With an infant in her arms, she has made trip after trip to Church Roads. She has employed detectives at her own expense; searched through Northern States, and strange to say, found a child in the State of New Jersey corresponding in size and appearance with the lost child, and it was found that this child had been adopted by the people in the same month that Luna disappeared; and another reason why it would be thought this child was Luna, one of Mrs. Joyner's neighbors was found living in a half mile of this place had found suspicion so strong against him had moved away from Church Roads. Mr. Chandler, the uncle, was sent to identify the child, but was again disappointed. He declared it to be the most striking resemblance he had ever seen, but it was not Luna.

A detective was then employed by Mrs.
Lutton to find new evidence around the neighborhood of Church Roads. In this she was successful. It was found that neighbors had grudges against the Joyners, one of them being the killing of a dog by Mrs. Joyner's boys.

Several of them implicated themselves by remarks about the family. This was taken as a clue.
It has been followed until now; there is no doubt but that the child is alive and well, and can be gotten as soon as the parties can be arrested.
For the reason that the publication of the child's whereabouts might interfere with the girl's recovery, her location is not now given.

into the case, but he was willing to agree to a reasonable delay. He insisted that Monday was too remote, and urged that the case be set for Thursday. After the discussion, Mayor Maurice set the case for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and the witnesses were recognized to be present at that time.

Go to Grand Jury.
Mr. Page, in addressing the court, stated that the case would have to go to the grand jury. There can be no doubt of this. Mr. Page also said:
"Public interest and public justice demand a speedy trial and I cannot therefore agree to any unnecessary delay. The case will be set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Smith was driven to the courthouse in an open vehicle by Sergeant Saunders. She was dressed in black and was heavily veiled. A large crowd filled the court-room and surrounded the building. Mr. Smith was taken into the private office of the chief of police and did not enter the court-room. When court adjourned, Mrs. Smith had a conference with her attorney, after which she was driven to the jail.

In speaking of the case, Mr. H. M.
Smith, of counsel for the defense, said that on Sunday, Messrs. Davis and Davis, Wells and himself had been in conference at Mr. Wells's office, in Manchester. He stated that he had not withdrawn from the case and had no intention of so doing. He stated that they would prove that the child did not die from any whipping he had received from either the mother or father, but that he came out from the effects of his own evil habits. When asked if Mrs.
Smith had seen her other child since she had been confined to the jail, he said:
"She asked me if she might not see her child, but I told her that I thought it was best to leave her with the good people who were caring for him."

Will Prefer Charges.
Last night at a meeting of the Police Board, Chief-of-Police Lipscomb stated that he would prefer charges against Sergeant Wright, of the police force, for leaving Manchester without his permission. The chief said that he would wait until Sergeant Wright returned, but that he would certainly prefer charges and have the whole matter investigated by the board.

Captain Lipscomb had selected Officer Alcorn, of the force, to go to New York after prisoner Smith, but the Mayor ordered Sergeant Wright to go and gave him written orders.
The question now is, who had authority to select the officer, the mayor or the chief. It is said that Officer Wright was compelled to go, having received orders from the head of the city government and that he is blameless in the matter.
The fight is between Captain Lipscomb and Mayor Maurice.

The May term of the Hastings Court commenced yesterday, and the grand jury returned a large number of true bills.

Among them was one against Shepherd K. Smith, for larceny. Smith is the father of Ralph Smith, the Little Manchester boy, whose mother is now under arrest charged with his murder. The man is charged with the larceny of money entrusted to him by his employer for deposit.

Following are other true bills found: James Allen, malicious wounding; Eugene Blankenship, alias Eugene Bos-sieux, housebreaking and larceny (three indictments); Paul Brown, malicious wounding; Leo Duncan, malicious wounding; Richard Hardesty, Charles Kirtley, William Walthall, Richard Carter, housebreaking, etc.; Della Haynes, aiding to abduct; Della Haynes and George Wilkinson, aiding, etc.; In abduction; Nora Smith, larceny; Joseph Washington, malicious wounding; George Wilkinson, aiding to abduct; Charles Butler, deserting wife; Joseph Green, deserting wife and child; William A. Ward, deserting wife and child.

Court adjourned until Friday, but the jury will not be called until Monday.

ROSEBUD RALLY.

A Pantomime on "Nearer, My God, to Thee" Causes Comment.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHESTER, VA., May 1.—The "Rosebud Rally" at the Methodist Church here last night was pronounced by all who attended and remarked upon it, a great success. The chilling performance, their parts creditably, the pantomime on "Nearer My God to Thee" was beautiful and dramatic. The six girls selected for this "dumb charade" were nearly all of one stature and dressed in light, flowing white robes and alippers, with pure white bees on their heads, and made some impression of the audience. The exhibition on the pulpit platform of the church, the pupils had been removed, but it is safe to say that the solemn, reverent postures and dramatic of the hymn, accompanied by the pathetic words of the hymn, beautifully sung, brought tears to their eyes and made some impression of heavenly aspirations.

The rally was managed by Mrs. A. C. Jordan, wife of the pastor, and the drilling for the pantomime was done by Mrs. Dr. A. J.
Hurt. You could hear the "dumb" dropping, dropping, dropping, as they carried around their silver cups, appealed for monetary aid. The church was filled to its full capacity.

Miss Mel. Holland, of the Hotel de Chevre, entertained the children of the village this afternoon with the festivities and the "May Pole." The children greatly enjoyed the occasion.

Mr. Wm. Campbell and wife are stopping here at the hotel. Mr. Campbell is a son of the founder of the Christian Church, Disciple Church, the noted Alexander Campbell.
The public school here was closed some days ago, after a session. Mrs.
Lyon's school will close on June 2d.

LEVY CONCLUDES ARGUMENT

Declares Case Is Either One of Deliberate Murder or Suicide.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 1.—"This case is one of deliberate murder or suicide.
There can be no manslaughter about it.
There should be no compromise verdict.
She is either guilty of murder in the first degree or not at all."

With these words Abraham Levy, counsel for Nan Patterson, brought to a close this afternoon his five hours' argument in defense of the former chorus girl, charged with the murder of Caesar Young.

During the long argument Miss Patterson faced the jury unflinchingly. The court room was crowded, most of the attendants being women who struggled to get a look at the defendant. At one time the judge was compelled to stop Mr. Levy while court officers expelled from the room some women who persisted in discussing the case in audible tones to the annoyance of all present.

Mr. Levy reviewed all the testimony in detail. It was 6 o'clock when, after having spoken in all over five hours, he concluded his address. During his long talk Nan kept her eyes fixed on the jury, watching the effect of Mr.
Levy's argument, which may decide her fate.

When adjournment was announced Miss Patterson walked back to the prison with a steady step. She made no comment on the day's proceedings. Assistant District Attorney Rand will make his closing argument to-morrow.

The district attorney's office is making a thorough investigation of a story as to the suppression of certain evidence in the case. A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed, and affidavits will be taken from them at the conclusion of the trial.

WEST POINT, VA., May 1.—Rev. J. R.
Bowden, from Albemarle, addressed the young men of the Christian Association in their hall at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and preached to a very large congregation at the Baptist Church at night. Mr.
Bowden was pastor here about seven years ago and married Miss Eva Howerton, of this family, in 1891. He is now pastor of the Christian Association in Richmond. Mr. Bowden's wife left for Richmond on a visit to her mother, Mrs.
J. T. Johnson, of Richmond, on Sunday morning. Mr. Bowden is a member of the Temperance Union in King William and Hen-rico counties, addressed a temperance mass meeting at the Baptist Church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A large and representative audience listened to his address. The musical programme was especially fine and enjoyable.
